Proper Pathways to Overcome Opposition while Building

Nehemiah 6:1-9

Proverbs 2:20 reads, "Wisdom will help you follow the example of good people and stay on the right path." (ERV) This verse records sound advice that King Solomon passed on to his sons as it relates to opposite sex relationships. All believers could profit greatly by heeding to godly counsel that comes from models and mentors in their life. Individuals who prioritize applying Christian principles shared by others to their daily walk with God, generally make better decisions when facing adversities and enemies. This lesson is designed to share proper pathways to overcome opposition while building.
